

Turnpike Panel Has No Money, But Spends $353,997

COLUMBUS, March 21 — (P)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission doesn't have that first thin dime of its own.

Yet it has managed to get $353,997 of its bills paid, which is pretty good financing on an empty wallet.

Further, the commission still has a $346,000 bankroll it can tap for additional expenditures.

How was the commission able to do this?

The state Board of Control decided the proposed turnpike across Northern Ohio was a good thing and should have a chance. It authorized the State Highway Department to spend $600,000 of its funds to help the commission along.

Some $500,000 of the money can be used for engineering services, and $100,000 for direct commission expenses.

So far engineering services worth $334,765 have been bought and paid for. Direct expenses have amounted to $18,832.

The biggest engineering fee was the $267,500 paid the J. E. Greiner Co. of Baltimore. That company completed a survey of the proposed turnpike route. It has been hired as turnpike engineering consultant.

Second largest engineering bill was $70,000, presented by the New York firm of Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall, and MacDonald. The highway department paid the firm $60,000 and still owes it $10,000. That firm made traffic-revenue studies to show how much the turnpike could expect to earn. It has asked to be hired as a permanent traffic consultant.

Two other engineering fees paid were $5,600 to the Lee Oil and Natural Gas Co. of Baltimore and $1,665 to the H. C. Nutting Co. of Cincinnati.

Both firms made soil studies, to determine the nature of the ground on which the turnpike would be built. Engineers have to know the composition of the sub-soil to make sure the super-highway is strong enough to bear up under pounding of heavy trucks.

The "direct services" include a planning survey costing $2,986 needed by Highway Director T.J. Kauer to provide him with engineering information.

It also included salaries paid State Highway Department people who spent part of their time on turnpike work. One case would be that of Col. Charles P. Smith, Kauer's executive secretary who also is liaison engineer between the highway department and the commission.

This item also included travel expenses, telephone and telegraph charges, and miscellaneous items.

Kauer, who also is secretary-treasurer of the commission, said the highway department will ask to be paid back just as soon as the commission gets some money of its own. He said paying turnpike bills hasn't hampered highway department work. The money would have been used for construction.

The commission won't have its own funds until after turnpike bonds are sold.

All of the money was spent by the highway department from a special account. Vouchers bear distinguishing marks so they can be told from highway department vouchers. This lets Kauer and the state auditor know from day to day what funds have been spent.

The state admittedly is taking a gamble on paying turnpike bills. Should the turnpike never be built, the highway department could not recover from the commission.

Officials Urge Calmness In Anthrax Fight

Panic Can Hinder Job Of Cleaning Up Farm Disease

COLUMBUS, March 21 — (P)—Authorities asked for "calm cooperation" from Ohio farmers Friday as they continued their efforts to check the spread of anthrax disease among cattle and hogs.

To date, the disease has killed approximately 180 animals on 94 farms in 29 counties.

The list of counties with quarantined farms now includes:

Clark, Clermont, Clinton, Champaign, Coshocton, Delaware, Franklin, Fayette, Greene, Hardin, Athens, Licking, Highland, Meigs, Miami, Morgan, Pickaway, Ross, Warren, Hocking, Seneca, Hancock, Madison, Knox, Mercer, Preble, Montgomery, Henry and Putnam.

State veterinarians said about the only "encouraging" indications in the investigation to date was that no new cases of anthrax were reported in Clinton County—where the first cases of the disease were discovered.

Officials of the State Agriculture Department said panic over the disease can be a hindrance in the work of checking anthrax and finding its source. Calm cooperation on the part of farmers, officials said, "is vital."

Until several days ago, anthrax had hit only hogs, which usually are more resistant to disease than other farm animals. Thursday, Dr. Harry G. Geyer, chief state veterinarian, announced the disease had spread to cattle. No milk cows have died of the disease. The two cattle deaths reported were beef animals in Clermont and Madison Counties.

The inspection work of the Agriculture Department, meanwhile, continues in all parts of the state. These inspections are followed by laboratory tests. Most of the tests are of cattle feed picked up in feed manufacturing plants and on farms.

OHIO STATE University's veterinary clinic and diagnostic laboratory said Friday that bodies of swine, living or dead, are being refused admission to the laboratory in a move to prevent spread of anthrax.

Geyer, in a letter to all state veterinarians, announced the ban, but said the OSU laboratory will continue to accept tissue samples "properly collected and packaged by a veterinarian."

Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director, said that although only one human being has contracted the disease (a laboratory worker who quickly recovered), "the threat to public health is not serious."

Porterfield has warned Ohio cattlemen not to sell milk for pasteurization, cheese manufacture, or cream or butter, if their dairy herds are infected or in a close contact with infected herds.

Columbus and Cincinnati have barred milk from farms where anthrax was found.

Engineer Drowns In Own Tender

ALBANY, N. Y., March 21 — (P)—A locomotive fireman died Thursday night in a fall through one of the openings of the 30,000-gallon water tank on a locomotive tender he had just filled.

Authorities said James W. Kendrick, 45, of Ballston Spa, had slipped or fallen while atop a Delaware and Hudson tender. The body was recovered after the water was drained from the tank.

Toledo Startled By Gas Line Roar

TOLEDO, March 21 — (P)—The roar from a broken gas pipeline 20 miles away startled pedestrians in downtown Toledo Thursday night.

The break was in a 20-inch Panhandle-Eastern line near Berkey in the northwestern corner of Lucas County. A spokesman for the firm said the break was brought under control and that there were no flames or injuries.

2 GOP Senators Being Linked To Mystery Man In Tax Probe

WASHINGTON, March 21 — (P)—The old saying that "politicians all are tarred with the same stick" was dragged out by some observers Friday as it was revealed that two Republican senators had been tied to the mysterious role of Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald.

Thursday, Sen. Owen Brewster (R-Me.) was linked to the oft-silent but known gambler, Grunewald, and Friday the name of Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) was added by House probes prying into sundry tax cases.

Bridges has been linked previously in testimony before a House Ways and Means Subcommittee with a multi-million dollar tax case involving a Baltimore wholesale liquor dealer. He was to testify before the panel Friday.

Digging deeper into Grunewald's reported interest in the case, the committee has scheduled an appearance of Hyman Harvey Klein, the Baltimore dealer against whom the government has slapped more than $5 million in tax assessments. The case still is pending.

Brewster popped dramatically into Thursday's hearings on Grunewald's tax affairs.

BREWSTER acknowledged he used Grunewald in 1950 to funnel $10,000 into the Republican primary campaigns of Senators Nixon of California and Young of North Dakota.

At the time, Brewster was chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee. It was "against the rules" for the committee to take sides in a party primary, Brewster conceded, but he did so anyway.

Bridges' purported part in the Klein case was revealed to the committee last fall by Charles Oliphant, who resigned under fire as general counsel of the scandal-ridden Internal Revenue Bureau.

Oliphant testified Grunewald inquired about the Klein case in their frequent lunchings together.

Oliphant said Grunewald acted in Bridges' behalf.

Grunewald was pictured Thursday as a man with large amounts of ready cash and influential friends at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue—the White House and Congress.

Ammo Truck Fire Quickly Doused

FINDLAY, March 21 — (P)—Volunteer firemen quickly doused a burning ammunition truck Thursday after it caught fire in a collision with another truck near Williamstown in southern Hancock County.

A small amount of ammunition exploded. The other truck, loaded with farm equipment, careened into a house and demolished it.

Both drivers were injured. Wayne Pinkerton, 22, of Raytown, Mo., driver of the ammunition truck, and John Pierson, 39, Philadelphia, were reported in "good condition" at a hospital in Upper Sandusky.

17-Day-Old Baby's Heart Massaged

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21 — (P)—Tony Gale Hiatt, youngest baby ever known to have been revived by heart massage by a surgeon, is reported recovering.

The baby was only 17 days old when his heart stopped beating in the middle of an eye operation. A surgeon at the Indiana University Medical Center cut into the baby's chest, inserted his fingers and got the heart to beat after four minutes' massaging.

Communists May Be Ready To Compromise On Truce

Jersey Battle Of Top Interest

Guessperts Still Ponder Plans For Truman, Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, March 21 — (P)—The political guessing game about President Truman's and General Eisenhower's plans continued apace Friday as the active candidates for the presidency centered their campaigns in Wisconsin and Nebraska.

These were the top developments in the political arena:

1. A majority of 45 Wisconsin newspaper editors concluded from surveys in their own counties that popular sentiment favors Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP presidential nomination and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the Democratic nomination. The state holds its preference primary April 1.

2. The New Jersey battle between Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll and Taft was heightened by a consolidation of Eisenhower forces in the state and a suggestion that Driscoll run for vice president on the general's ticket. Taft declared he was pulling out of the New Jersey race because Driscoll "had broken his word" in endorsing Eisenhower. The governor said Taft stepped out because of his "successive setbacks in New Hampshire and Minnesota."

3. A PRESS poll in South Carolina indicated the state's eight electoral votes may go to the Republican candidate if the Democrats nominate a "New Deal" candidate.

4. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, secretary of agriculture from 1945 to 1948, predicted Truman will seek reelection.

Spring Arrives Late In Some Parts Of U.S.

CHICAGO, March 21 — (P)—Spring was a late arrival in wide areas in northern and western parts of the country, but weather was on the sunny side in the south.

More snow flurries hit sections of the Rocky Mountain states and along the Canadian border from North Dakota eastward through Northern Minnesota and Lake Superior to Northern Maine.

Colder air spread southward and eastward over the Great Lakes region and the central part of the country to the Ohio River Valley. Temperatures were near or below freezing over most of the northern tier of states. The lowest readings, 10 to 20 above, were in the Northern Rockies.

It was a hot 95 at Laredo, Tex., Thursday.

The job of clearing snow-blocked highways in Sierra Nevada passes from California to Nevada continued. Several hundred persons were marooned by snow in East Central California. Roads to 200,000 cattle and 400,000 sheep in North and Central Nevada were blocked by snow. A state of emergency was proclaimed by Gov. Charles Russell of Nevada to qualify for federal aid for livestock.

25-Ton Carrier Plane Is Tested

COLUMBUS, March 21 — (P)—A new carrier-based photo-reconnaissance bomber completed a 39-minute test flight Thursday, the Columbus division of North American Aviation, Inc., announced.

The 25-ton plane, the AJ-2P, has been undergoing tests since the first one was completed Jan. 16.

relection. He believes a presidential announcement for another term eventually will come out of Truman's denial Thursday that Korean truce negotiations will affect his decision.

3. Gen. Douglas MacArthur issued a statement saying there was no inconsistency between his 1948 statement that he would not shirk any public call to duty and his unwillingness to enter the presidential primaries.

6. Eisenhower's national headquarters was accused of failing to appreciate the full potential of the general's "grass roots" popularity. William I. Holbrook, secretary of "Minnesotans for Eisenhower," said Eisenhower's national campaign manager, Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.), is close to a "little number of substantial people, but not to a

Lee Dunkel Dies Friday In Columbus

Leland Dunkel, 45, of Circleville Route 2, died at 7:15 a. m. Friday in University hospital, Columbus.

Dunkel was fatally injured late Tuesday at his farm home when he was struck by the blast of a 16-gauge shotgun.

The shotgun blast struck the man from the rear, hitting a point just below his ribs.

Dunkel reportedly had been hunting pigeons on his barn lot when the accident happened. He said he had fallen from a fence.

The shotgun, with an empty shell in the chamber and another empty shell found on the ground nearby, was leaning against the barnyard fence.

AFTER HAVING received the fatal wound, Dunkel apparently crawled about 200 feet to his home. He was found lying in the kitchen of his home at about 3 p. m. Tuesday by a vacuum cleaner salesman, who summoned aid.

Dunkel was born Jan. 24, 1907, in Circleville Township, son of Daniel and Cora Miller Dunkel.

Surviving him is his widow, Eloise Hilyard Dunkel, whom he married Dec. 28, 1946; a brother, H. Miller Dunkel, of Circleville; and a sister, Mrs. Forrest Liston, of Miamisburg. He was preceded in death by a brother, Wright Dunkel, and a sister, Mabel Dunkel Bolender.

Dunkel was a member of First Methodist church and served four years overseas during World War II. He was employed as parts manager for Haden Chevrolet Co.

Funeral arrangements for Dunkel, widely known in Circleville, are to be completed by Deffenbaugh Funeral Home.

Importation of bootleg liquor was caused by the recent $1.50 per gallon increase in federal taxes. "Taxes are the margin of profit for bootleggers," Bryant said.

State To Battle Bootleg Traders

SPRINGFIELD, March 21 — (P)—State Liquor Director William C. Bryant said Thursday he has assigned 83 enforcement officers to a drive against increasing whisky bootlegging in Ohio.

Bryant said the rise in bootlegging was caused by the recent $1.50 per gallon increase in federal taxes. "Taxes are the margin of profit for bootleggers," Bryant said.

5 Quakes Noted

CATANIA, Sicily, March 21 — (P)—Five new earth tremors hit this volcanic area Thursday. A heavier quake two days ago took three lives, injured scores and crumpled a number of houses.

Motorman's Tip Brings Trouble

PHILADELPHIA, March 21 — (P)—Trolley Motorman Albert J. Cooney saw flames shooting out of a house Thursday night, stopped his car and turned in a box alarm.

Cooney climbed back in his trolley and continued his run. Minutes later he heard the fire truck siren. He halted his trolley. The truck collided head-on into the trolley. Five firemen and three trolley passengers were injured, none seriously.

Bogart Wins Movie 'Oscar' In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 21 — (P)—Humphrey Bogart, Vivien Leigh and "An American in Paris" won the principal Oscars Thursday night at the annual Academy Awards festival.

Bogart was an obvious sentimental selection for best actor award as the gin-loving skipper in "The African Queen." Miss Leigh was a pre-award favorite for the best actress Oscar for her portrayal of a faded beauty in "Streetcar Named Desire."

But the upset mood of the night prevailed in the best picture award. "An American in Paris" was a darkhorse and most of the pre-award polls figured "Streetcar" as a runaway choice.

It was a sentimental year and Bogie summed it up best himself: "I have been around a long time. Maybe the people like me."

Karl Malden, the disillusioned lover of "Streetcar," won the award for the best supporting actor and Kim Hunter, the wife in "Streetcar," won the best supporting actress plum.

"American in Paris" also won Oscars in these categories: Costume design, art direction, set decoration, cinematography (all these in color films), musical scoring, story-and-screenplay.

In addition to these, Gene Kelly, the picture's star, won an honorary award for his "brilliant achievements in the art of choreography in film."

Senate Gives Heavy Vote To Japan Treaty

WASHINGTON, March 21 — (P)—The Senate has overwhelmingly approved a generous peace treaty with Japan six and one-half years after the surrender in Tokyo Bay ended World War II.

Thirty-eight Democrats and 28 Republicans supported the treaty late Thursday as it rolled up a 66 to 10 favorable vote, far more than the required two-thirds.

One Democrat, McCarran (D-Nev.) who often opposes administration policies, and nine Republicans voted against it.

Only the formality of the signing of a proclamation by the President remains before the United States completes its action to end the state of war with its once bitter foe.

The treaty is expected to be flown to Key West, Fla., for the President's prompt signature.

The document provides that it must be approved by at least seven of 12 nations, all with vital interests in the Pacific.

So far it has been approved by five of these, in addition to the United States. They are: Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Ceylon and Japan itself. Yet to act are Canada, France, Indonesia, Netherlands, Pakistan and Philippines.

POW Exchange Issue Stand May Soften

Only Slight Hint Given By Enemy At Armistice Parley

MUNSAN, March 21 — (P)—Communist truce negotiators indicated Friday they may be ready to compromise on the deadlocked issue of exchanging prisoners of war.

The Reds submitted a formal two-sentence version of their March 5 plan for trading prisoners. It made no mention of voluntary repatriation, the only important issue blocking agreement.

There is "absolutely nothing new" in the Communist proposal, said Brig. Gen. William P. Nichols, UN spokesman.

On the surface, he said, it does not seem to break the deadlock over whether prisoners should have the right to choose whether they are to be repatriated.

However, other observers interpreted what the Communist proposal did not say as significant. They said the Reds may want to compromise, but are not ready to say how.

THE REDS suggested negotiations proceed on the basis of prisoner rosters exchanged Dec. 18. Under the Communist plan the UN Command would return 132,472, and the Communists 11,559.

Neither side suggested secret talks to speed agreement. The UN Command indicated Thursday it would agree to off-the-record negotiations if the Reds wanted to abandon daily progress reports.

A second group of staff officers working on truce supervision exchanged maps of 10 ports of entry through which troops and supplies will move into Korea during an armistice.

The Communist maps failed to show exact areas in which neutral inspection teams would be allowed to operate. But the Reds promised to ink in the necessary details overnight.

An Allied staff officer said he expects "no trouble" in reaching agreement on areas to be inspected. He indicated final details may be worked out Saturday.

American Sabre pilots destroyed or damaged 13 to 18 Red jets in a series of fights Thursday climaxed by history's longest jet battle.

Darkening skies prevented exact assessment of results of a 40-minute dogfight over North Korea. But pilots of F-86 Sabrejets said they damaged at least three Mig-15s and possibly eight. Allied losses, if any, were not reported.

IN TWO earlier engagements Thursday the Sabres reported they shot down five Migs and damaged five.

In the 40-minute battle 28 Sabres tangled with 40 Migs in a fight running over 70 miles from Sinanju to the Yalu River border with Manchuria. The longest previous jet battle lasted 35 minutes.

The fight brought the Sabres' three-day record to at least 31 and possibly 36 Red jets hit, including 11 shot down.

The Air Force said the bag of Red warplanes now stands at 232 destroyed, 39 probably destroyed and 426 damaged—a total of 697.

Ground action was light with small, sporadic fights.

Living Cost Dips

WASHINGTON, March 21 — (P)—The cost of living as measured by the government, dropped 0.6 per cent in February, the first decline since last June, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

Program Of Reforestation Due For Pickaway County In April

An extensive program of reforestation for Pickaway County during April was mapped out Thursday during a meeting in the county extension office.

A four-point plan was recommended by a committee of local landowners and officials during the meeting in a reforestation movement requested by Gov. Frank Lausche.

Attending Thursday's meeting were Larry Best, chairman of the committee, and George D. McDowell, Hayden Evans, R. C. Carpenter, Clarence Maxson, R. L. Brehmer, Ralph May, Don Archer, Al Gabriel and Leonard Watts.

The committee met with State Forester Robert Peyton, who outlined the rapid waste to which natural resources are now being expended.

Peyton told the men our fathers used expendable resources at the rate of 10 times as fast as their fathers, while the present generation is using the same resources at a rate of 1,000 times as rapidly as their fathers—or 100,000 times the rate of their grandfathers.

IN ADDITION, the committee was told $1 billion worth of soil fertility is washed down the Mississippi River every year, while the government spends $1 million annually to keep the river free from the silt and trees washed down.

"We are losing our productive crop land at a rate of 200 40-acre farms every day," the committee was told.

Here in Pickaway County, also troubled by floods and water supply, trees are one of the greatest factors in helping restore the soil.

Four-point program recommended by the committee was:

1. During April, every family in the county plant one or more trees for home beautification, reforestation or windbreak.

2. On April 24, farms of Carpenter and Evans are to be dedicated by Ohio Forestry Association as tree farms, dedicated to best possible forestry use where woods is to be protected from cattle and crop to be harvested annually. At same time, all schools of county will be asked to begin own forestry projects, so that in 2003, when Ohio celebrates its 200th birthday, trees will be marketable.

3. Urge every family to contact a friend of neighbor with a woods to obtain small seedling to be planted for home beautification. Data on selection, transplanting to be outlined later by Brehmer; and

4. Have schools in county dedicate areas for school forests.

33 Lutheran Men Honored For Service

Trinity Lutheran church Brotherhood met Thursday for a short business meeting to plan for the annual Diamond Jubilee Banquet.

Following this, the program opened with Dave Walters and Elmer Barr Jr. presenting a skit calling for several players in which they acted all the parts.

Marion Steinhauser gave a summary of the development and activities of the Brotherhood since it was organized in 1910. Two of the sixteen charter members are still active.

D. Ed Mason and Ed Sensenbrenner were present at the meeting and were honored for their 42 years of service to the organization. John Carpenter was honored as the oldest member in point of age, and then those men who have been members for 25 years or more were recognized.

There are 33 of these 25-year members, and twenty-seven of them were present for the meeting last night.

Those honored were: Arthur Barthelmas, Harry Barthelmas Sr., Ralph Beck, R. L. Brehmer, H. A. Bumgardner, Robert Bower, Ed Ebert, George Eitel, John Eitel, George Fischer, Charles Fellers, George Griffith, Jacob Hatz, Bill Hulse, J. D. Hummel, Karl Herrmann, Harry Kern, W. G. Koch, Luther List, William H. Leist, Carl C. Leist, D. E. Mason, D. E. Martin, Frank Palm, Jacob Scharenberg, Ed Sensenbrenner, Clarence Stein, the Rev. G. L. Troutman, Gladden Troutman, Charles Walters, John Walters, Clarence Wolf and Chester Wolf.

Wolf Honored By Capital U.

Edward Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Wolf of 237 E. Mound street, has been awarded an honor certificate for outstanding scholarship in Capital university, Columbus.

The 96 students who attained the highest scholastic average in the university last semester were presented with the awards in regular chapel service.

To be eligible for the award, freshmen must obtain a scholastic point average of 3.3, sophomores an average of 3.4, juniors and seniors an average of 3.5. Point averages are based on four points per semester hour for a grade of A, three points for a grade of B, and two points for a grade of C.

Wolf is a junior in the public school music curriculum.

New Spelling Game Made Up By Pastor

EFFINGHAM, Ill. — Rev. P. W. Hayes, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, has invented a word game called "Smartee." He hopes to finance the building of a new church from sales of the game.

The game is related to a crossword puzzle. It has value in teaching spelling and increasing vocabulary.

Tile Truck Upsets In Accident

A semi-trailer outfit carrying a load of tile was upset Thursday in an accident on Route 56 about 10 miles east of Circleville.

The accident happened at about 9:30 a. m. Thursday and state highwaymen were forced to remain at the scene more than three hours to clear the road of tile.

The accident happened when the semi outfit, operated west by Ralph Stiers, 36, of Nelsonville Route 2, attempted to pass a pickup truck operated west by Durban Armstrong, 69, of Laurelville Route 1.

State Highway Patrolman Bob Greene said the Armstrong pickup truck had slowed in the highway, preparatory to turning left into a farm lane.

The tractor-trailer rig, seeing the halting car, pulled out to pass, Greene said. At that time, the pickup truck went into its left turn.

Stiers whipped his rig sharply to the right in an effort to avoid collision. The truck slipped the rear of the pickup and swerved out of control.

Upsetting in the right ditch, the truck lurched back toward the road to spill its load of tile onto the highway. The driver was unhurt.

Armstrong later was fined $50 and costs, $40 suspended, in the court of Mayor Ed Amey for failure to give warning of intent to turn.

Also fined in mayor's court Thursday was Howard B. Rice, 20, of Ashland, Ky. Rice was fined $15 and costs for speeding 65 miles per hour on North Court street. He was arrested by Officers Leroy Hawks and Ed Hoffman.

Officials Urge Calmness In Anthrax Fight

thrax disease has hit hogs. Porterfield has asked that medical authorities be notified in areas where anthrax has been discovered.

All of the farms where anthrax has been found have been quarantined. No hogs from these farms can be sent to slaughter without approval of health and agriculture department authorities.

Officials say there has been no conclusive results thus far from tests conducted on feeds picked up in many areas.

CHARLES JONES, Fayette County sanitarian, has called a meeting of farmers in that area for 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, to take part in a panel discussion on anthrax. The meeting will be held in the Dayton Power and Light Co. auditorium in Washington C. H.

Geyer, Dr. Harry Goldstein of the state division of animal industry, and Dr. W. E. Beavers of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, will lead the discussion.

The spread of anthrax may be brought about by contamination of the soil, drinking water, pasture and hay plants, and discharges of infected animals.

Anthrax may spread from one county to another during floods or, more probably, through the interchange of infected objects closely associated with animal life—hides, hair, wool, bonemeal, fertilizer, forage and other materials.

Symptoms vary. The average period between exposure to the disease and actual infection varies from 24 hours to five days. The disease may occur in peracute, acute, subacute or chronic form.

Peracute means sudden death and few symptoms are seen. It is similar to cerebral apoplexy—sudden staggering, collapse, convulsions, death. A blood-stained discharge from body openings may be seen. This form is most common in cattle and sheep.

The acute form terminates in death in a day or two while the subacute takes three to five days. In these forms, the disease develops an early stage of excitement, followed by depression, stupor, spasms, staggering, death. There will be bloody discharges and body temperature may reach 107.

Chronic anthrax generally occurs in swine and is usually recognized only on post-mortem examination. There will be lymph gland reaction and malignant carbuncles on the hide.

DEATHS and Funerals

ERNEST LEE SMITH

Ernest Lee Smith, 58, of Fayette County, died at 9:30 a. m. Friday in Memorial hospital, Washington C. H., where he had been a patient for the last five days.

Mr. Smith was a widely-known farmer and owner; trainer and driver of harness horses. He was a member of Elk's Lodge. He was born March 28, 1893 in Fayette county.

Surviving him is his widow, Irene Smith; a step-daughter, Mrs. June Moon, of near New Holland; and one grandson.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, Washington C. H. Burial will be in Washington cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home after Friday noon.

MRS. FANNIE GRIFFITH

Mrs. Fannie C. Griffith, 77, of Columbus died Wednesday in her home following a long illness. She was the widow of Charles W. Griffith.

Surviving her are two sons, Thomas D. Griffith of Hamilton and Joseph A. Griffith of Columbus; a daughter, Mrs. William Fetter, with whom she made her home; and a sister, Mrs. Anne E. Silbaugh, of Boston, formerly of Ashville.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the P. E. Rutherford Funeral Home, Columbus, where friends may call from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Thursday and Friday.

Burial will be in Amanda Township cemetery.

JACK W. TIMMONS

Jack W. Timmons, 82, of Jackson Township, died at 8 a. m. Friday in his residence on Circleville Route 3. His brother, L. Paul Timmons of Circleville Route 3, is his only survivor.

He was a corporal in Company L, 35th Regiment, U. S. Infantry in the Spanish American War, and was a member of Heber Lodge, 501 F and AM, of Williamsport.

The Lodge, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Sudlow, will conduct services at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home, 8 p. m., Sunday. Cremation to follow Monday morning.

Friends may call in the funeral home after Saturday noon.

GEORGE W. LINDSEY

George W. Lindsey, 78, of Clearport, died at 8:10 a. m. Friday after an illness of six weeks, in the home of a nephew, Lloyd Lindsey, Lancaster Route 2.

He was the last member of his immediate family.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m., Monday in Van Cleave Funeral Home, Amanda, with the Rev. Carl Groff officiating. Burial will be in Hopeville cemetery.

Friends may call in the funeral home after Saturday noon.

Extra Post Card Fee Is Eliminated

A 10-percent surcharge on two-cent postal cards will be ended Saturday.

Circleville postoffice Friday announced the surcharge placed on sales of postal cards purchased in lots of more than 50 has been rescinded.

Since Jan. 1, persons purchasing the new two-cent post cards in quantities of more than 50 at a time were forced to pay 10 percent more on the purchase price.

Local firms after Saturday may purchase the cards in any quantity for the flat two-cent-per-card fee.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Though I must read a good many letters from worried mothers, I also get some letters which describe very happy families, and more of these have been coming in of late. I am grateful for them. They hearten me. Here is a sample:

"Dear Dr. Myers: We are blessed with four children — two boys, four and two and a half, and twin girls a year old. My husband is wonderful both in caring for the children and with the housework. A nearby high school girl helps me with the ironing one evening a week and helps a half-day on Saturday. My husband and the boys enjoy Saturday mornings together often. All the children nap in the afternoon. "I won't say we have real problems, though, of course, some things seem to be at times and big ones for the moment, but we are earnestly trying to train these little children in right living with good habits."

"WHEN DAILY CHORES along with caring for four children, which includes reading to each boy daily and listening, answering and helping with some things, are done, there isn't much time left for anything else—nor very much energy sometimes. I do have one evening out every week and twice monthly I am out for another evening. My husband minds the children then and I mind them on his weekly evening out."

Some time ago I was a Sunday dinner guest of a couple I had never met before. They were the parents of children aged about five, four and two.

While the mother and father together prepared the dinner, these little children quietly amused themselves most of the time with their simple, well-chosen playthings. Occasionally one of the parents would come to give each youngster a bit of help and encouragement or to chat with me. I, too, enjoyed the creative play of these children who visited with me and talked about what they were doing. There was no running or rough-house, though an occasional contest arose over doubtful ownerships and rights.

AT DINNER, the parents ate and visited leisurely. The children ate with enjoyment; not a word about eating was heard by them.

Flying UN Flag Brings Dispute

CANTON, March 21.—(P)—"Burned up" because the United Nations flag was hauled down at the courthouse, Stark County Commissioner Joseph Nist is asking that the secretary of defense be consulted. Fellow commissioners authorized it because of "complaints," Nist said. It had been draped alongside the American flag. Nist will ask the commission to get a decision from Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett as to the correctness of this display.

New North Ohio Judgeship Slated

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(P)—A new district federal judgeship for Northern Ohio is included in an omnibus bill creating 23 new judgeships approved Thursday by the House Judiciary Committee. The bill also would authorize federal district judges to hold court in Akron. Federal judges in Northern Ohio now may sit in Cleveland, Youngstown, Toledo and Lima. The House bill follows generally the lines of a bill passed last year by the Senate.

lawyer forced to flee Germany by the Nazi regime, recalls he had trouble "with what is called a bad memory when I was a student myself."

"That is why I went into this work. Today I have no trouble remembering anything I wish." One of his own mental gymnastic feats is to glance through a deck of cards and then repeat them aloud in order. He believes practically anyone who will train his mind can do the same thing.

"William James, the psychologist, once said that people don't use one tenth of their real brain power," he remarked. "I think he was correct."

The system he developed is now taught in several universities, including Yale and Brooklyn College. It is built on the principles of concentration, observation and the use of key symbols that have a power of association with the objects or persons to be remembered. His students range from housewives to top executives.

"The most general complaint people make is they can't remember names or faces, and this embarrasses them socially or in their jobs," he said. "But there is no reason why you cannot meet 30 complete strangers at a party and afterward recall them accurately by name and face."

As a matter of fact, that is one of the graduation tests for his students after completing his ten-week course.

Dr. Furst, who has a formidable brow, has developed his own memory ability to the point where he has trouble finding anyone to join him in playing bridge, one of his hobbies. He remembers the cards too well.

The 61-year-old memory expert is also a professional graphologist, and hypnotist. By mental concentration he can increase or slow the tempo of his own heart beat.

One of his personal brain exercises is to concentrate his attention for six minutes on the bare head of a pin. Think that is easy. Try it.

People, he observed, usually concentrate their memory on what is closest to their heart. Did Dr. Furst ever hear of a housewife who forgot her wedding anniversary?

"Never," he admitted. "That is why more husbands would be happier with a little memory training."

Weekly Food Review

By Associated Press

By The Associated Press
Retail food prices showed little change this week compared with last weekend.

Frying and broiling chickens appeared to be edging up slightly in many places and there were minor fluctuations in fresh fruits and vegetables because of localized supply conditions. But the price trend as a whole was exceptionally stable.

Small chickens advanced one to six much as nine cents a pound in several big marketing areas. Dealers said higher feed costs were probably a leading factor for the rise. They noted, however, that production is high and that pork and beef, which have been plentiful lately, are giving poultry more competition in recent weeks than they had for several months. So the uptrend in chicken prices may be only temporary.

A LITTLE lower on most fresh produce counters this week were string beans, beets, broccoli, carrots, cucumbers though these were still unusually high, spinach, strawberries, Florida oranges and tangeries.

Small-sized pascal celery was reported selling at close to production costs in many cities and appeared likely to move higher as growers trimmed their shipments. It and new cabbage, carrots and spinach were described as good buys in most sections by Agriculture Department reporters.

Cauliflower, eggplant, chicory, escarole, good quality tomatoes,

California oranges, grapes and apples were a trifle higher.

Foods to be featured by major stores for weekend shopping showed considerable variety this week, reflecting the overall price stability. These foods appeared frequently on the lists of specials: beef roasts, pork loins, center cut pork chops, breast and neck of veal, sirloin and porterhouse steak, picnic hams, stewing chickens, citrus fruits and juices, eggs, pascal celery, new cabbage, cheese, lettuce, oysters and fresh and frozen fish.

Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet food index, eased downward this week to the lowest average level since early November of 1930. The index this week was $6.54, compared with $6.58 last week and $7.23 a year ago. The wholesale cost-per-pound price of 31 foods in general use are added up to find the index figure.

BIG LIE

SOVIET RUSSIA is carrying to great lengths Moscow's newest propaganda campaign against the United States. The Kremlin's goal is to make this country—through employment of the Hitler technique—hated and despised the world over. The great lie for this latest attack has been spawned. For weeks the Chinese press and radio have been repeating the charge that U. S. forces in Korea have resorted to germ warfare. Now newspapers and broadcasters everywhere behind the iron curtain have joined the cry.

It is reported that indignation meetings are being organized throughout Russia. Now the accusation has been laid before the new United Nations Disarmament Commission.

At its first meeting in this country the commission heard Jacob A. Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister, declare that the United States is using bacteriological warfare for the purpose of "mass killings of the civilian population" in Korea. Ben Cohen the U. S. member of the commission, commented that if the Russians want the facts they will support an impartial investigation by the Red Cross.

The Russians do not want an investigation because they know what the facts are. The only kind of inquiry they would be interested in would be one that would confirm the lie. Even unconfirmed, the lie is valuable to them. They can use it to explain the failure of the communist authorities to deal with disease in Korea and China. They can use it to justify germ warfare on their part, if they dare to try it. They can use it to smear this nation.

Yet the very fact that the Kremlin has turned to this lie seems to indicate that other lies have fallen flat.

Current party emblems are the elephant and the donkey, when the country needs horse sense more than anything else.

Grain speculators formerly made money on weather in the Argentine. Now they make it on whether they have influence or not.

House of Representatives is beginning to work on appropriations. If the House runs true to form, it will cut budget requests by three per cent, then reconsider and add another billion or two.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON, March 21 — President Truman's angry denunciation of "greedy and arrogant" opponents of his public power program will get an equally angry answer from Capitol Hill today, when the heavily Democratic House Appropriations Committee reports an Interior Department bill carrying about $150 million less than the White House wanted for hydroelectric generating plants and transmission lines.

It is the most serious rebuke Truman has suffered at this session in the field of domestic legislation. In addition to the enforced economies on this kind of spending, new legislative restrictions on expansion of public power amount to a definite mandate against further encroachments on private industry in this realm. It is a crippling setback.

REVERSE — The significant fact about this reverse is that it was not the work of the "reactionaries" whom Truman headlined in his recent attack, which was read before the National Rural Electrification Cooperative Association by Secretary Chapman two days after the Kefauver triumph in New Hampshire.

In fact, politicians regarded the Truman outburst on power as an attempt to distract public attention from his Kefauver humiliation. It had been written and mimeographed at Interior many weeks ago.

The financial and legislative restrictions were supported by several public power advocates

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Men who throw about charges of other men's probity and integrity must be sure that their memories are excellent. The witness before a Congressional Committee who is sure that all men are liars, excepting himself, must be careful that he has not forgotten what he said. The ordeal by slander is fearful; but the cause for slander is generally of one's own making.

The enormous volume of the Lattimore hearings before the McCarran Committee makes trying and on the whole dull reading because the learned professor fights the facts and resorts, for page after page, to arrogant vituperation. However, it is my function to toil through volume after volume of hearings to discover what he actually said.

I find that Lattimore has contradicted himself an extraordinarily large number of times.

"Asiaticus" is the pseudonym for an important Communist whose relations with international Communism have been fully established. Robert Morris, counsel for the Committee, asked:

"Mr. Lattimore, have you testified in executive session before this committee that you did not know Asiaticus to be a Communist and in your opinion he was a socialist?"

Mr. Lattimore: "I believe I did, yes." Lattimore was then shown the testimony. To that he replied:

"Yes, my statement in that testimony was, 'I didn't know he was a Communist. I would have said, speaking as of the late 1930's, that I would have thought he was possibly a socialist, but not a Communist.'"

"Mr. Morris. All right. Mr. Lattimore did you not testify in executive session before this committee that you did not know that Asiaticus was a Marxist?"

"Mr. Lattimore—May I add there that this was many years ago, and my memory may not have been perfectly accurate. Also I would like to add that I certainly did not consider myself then and don't consider myself even now an authority on who is a Marxist and who isn't."

Lattimore then got into an argument about what he knew many years ago, apparently forgetting that the record to which the Committee counsel referred was made on July 13, 1951. Mr. Lattimore did not have to go back in his memory to the 1930's or even to the 1940's. The date when the statement in conflict was made, under oath, was July 13, 1951 and was being questioned on February 29, 1952.

We come here to a curious thing. The Third International used to issue a journal called "International Press Correspondence," generally referred to as "Imprecorr." It was the authoritative paper of the Communist movement, affecting all countries in the world. It was issued in several languages. No man could possibly have regarded himself as an expert on China in the 1930's without reading "Imprecorr" closely, because the Communist movement in China was a developing public force and the best documentation of it was in "Imprecorr." I, for instance, subscribed to it for many years.

New And Better Drug Used To Relieve Blood Vessel Spasm

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A NEW and better drug has recently been introduced to relieve spasm of the blood vessels. Doctors are watching its result with interest, for they are recognizing more and more that spasm plays an important role in causing blood vessel diseases.

Up to now, papaverine has been, perhaps, the most satisfactory drug for this condition. Its effect is to increase the size of the blood vessel and prevent spasm, thus allowing a normal flow of blood.

Search for Substitute

Papaverine is a narcotic, however. Its use is restricted by government regulations, which strictly control the doctor who prescribes it as well as the patient when he requires a refill. Chemists have been searching for something similar which would be more easily accessible to the general public.

The new drug is known as diosylone phosphate. It is not a narcotic under the law, and also carries less danger of poisoning by overdose. Many patients who cannot take papaverine take diosylone phosphate without trouble. They can thus use larger doses and enjoy greater benefits without worrying about bad effects.

Many of the other drugs for spasm have the further disadvantage of acting like a sedative.

The new drug does not have this effect. Besides its relaxing effect on the muscles of the blood vessels it can be used to relieve spasm of other muscles in the body.

Excellent Results

This drug has been successful in various disorders of the blood vessels. Doctors throughout the country are confirming its excellent results in a majority of cases of angina pectoris. It is being used to treat coronary heart disease, as well as the type of spasm in vessels of the arms and legs caused by a clot in one of the large blood vessels of those parts. I should hardly have to warn readers that it would be foolish to try to use a drug for any of these conditions without obtaining exact instructions from a physician.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W.: When I was a young child, I heard a great deal about erysipelas. In the last few years, however, I have not heard of anyone having this disease. Is it extinct?

Answer: Erysipelas at one time was an extremely dangerous disease. However, with the advent of the sulfonamide and antibiotic drugs, this condition can now be rapidly cured. Hence, there is little publicity given to it.

AS JOHNNY LIDDELL looked up from his third cup of coffee, Muggsy Kieley slid into the seat beside him. She stared at the discolored gash just under the hairline, whistled soundlessly.

"You're a detective who really uses his head, aren't you? What happened?"

"I got too close to Goldy and she let me have it. With a sap." Liddell investigated the top of his head gingerly. "And don't think that baby doesn't know how to use one."

"You got close to her?"

Liddell nodded. "I was sneaking up on her. She must have heard me, because she waited until I got close enough, then she lowered the boom."

"You're sure it was Goldy?"

"Positive. When I started to go out, I grabbed for whoever it was. I got a handful of skirt." He finished his coffee, signaled the waitress to bring two more cups.

"When I came to, she was sitting in the room with Ben Ceria."

"Too bad you couldn't hold onto her."

Liddell grimaced. "Too bad my skull isn't steel plated. Did you get what I wanted?"

"Maybe."

"What do you mean, maybe. I told you it was rush. Did you get it?"

Muggsy waited until the waitress had placed the coffee in front of them and retired beyond earshot. "Where do I fit in this deal, Johnny?" she wanted to know.

"We've been through all that. I'll call you and give you the stuff the minute it happens."

Muggsy shook her head. "That was the deal. This story's getting bigger all the time. I want to be in on the finish. First-hand observer stuff."

"Nothing doing. These people are killers. I tell you they've got nothing to lose. They're a gang of spies and they're in a corner."

"Either I go, Johnny, or I don't give you the location of the Sea Nymph."

Liddell muttered fervently under his breath. "Okay, play cute. Act like a dame. I'll get it some place else."

Muggsy sampled her coffee, added more sugar. "Go ahead. By the time you get it, they'll be gone. If you could have gotten it, you wouldn't have called me," she added sweetly.

Liddell shook his head. "No deal."

Muggsy shrugged. "Okay. But if I were you, I'd be sensible and let me come along."

Liddell stole a look at his watch, groaned. "Okay, you win. But don't forget. You asked for it. Now give. Where's the Sea Nymph?"

"Manhasset Bay harbor. Out on the island. She's a big power cruiser." Muggsy fumbled through her bag, came up with a piece of copy paper bearing a set of scribbled notations. "Registered in the name of Huntington Brin." She looked up. "Sound familiar?"

"That does it. That ties this up in a nice fancy package." He dumped a handful of silver on the table, started to get up.

"What are you going to do, Johnny?"

"What do you think I'm going to do? I'm going out to the boat and try evening the score with Goldy and Ceria. Then I'm calling in the T-boys and dumping the whole mess into their laps, all wrapped up in pretty pink paper."

"You, Johnny? Muggsy asked. "I got the bodyguard. He came at me with a knife. I don't know who killed Brin, but I know why. He was beginning to spill too much to me."

"Just the same, Johnny, you can't stick your neck out any more. You've done all you can. Let the Feds move in and clean up."

Liddell pulled his arm away angrily. "Why should I? I did all the work and took all the risks. This is my baby and I'm staying out front until I wrap it up. When Herley gets here, you can tell him—"

"Tell him yourself, Johnny," Muggsy said.

Outside a squad car, siren screaming, skidded to a stop and Herley stepped out.

Miss Farrand Weds Mr. Sensenbrenner In Church Rites

Miss Lois Jean Farrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Farrand, Columbus and Edward E. Sensenbrenner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus, were married March 16 in Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church, Columbus.

Mr. Sensenbrenner is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, 306 East Mound street, Circleville.

The marriage was performed by the Rev. A. J. Wold and the Rev. John E. Hydinger in the church decorated with baskets of white gladioli, ferns, palms, and seven-branch candelabra.

The bride's gown was designed with a heart shaped neckline, standing collar and long fitted sleeves. The fitted bodice was detailed with self tucks and the full skirt extended into a full cathedral train. A pearl tiara held the finger tip veil of embroidered, imported silk illusion. She carried a white satin Bible topped with a white orchid.

The five attendants wore similar gowns in pastel shades with matching gauntlets. They carried bouquets of violets.

A reception in the church parlor for 350 guests, followed the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from West High school, Columbus and employed in the State Department of Taxation. She is also a grandniece of George Griffith of Circleville.

Mr. Sensenbrenner, who was graduated from West High School in Columbus, is attending Ohio State university.

The couple will make their home at 215 1/2 Dana Avenue, Columbus, after March 25.

Those attending from Circleville were Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, Mrs. Alice Sensenbrenner, Robert Sensenbrenner, John Hummel and Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith.

New Campaign For Livestock Lab Expected

Foot-Mouth Outbreak In Canada Reviving Interest In Plan

WASHINGTON, March 21 — A dangerous outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease among cattle in Canada is expected to start a new drive for a multi-million-dollar laboratory to search for ways to stamp out the plague.

The Canadian outbreak is only 60 miles from the United States border. This may make it difficult if not impossible to keep the disease from spreading to this country.

The virus is perhaps the most destructive of all animal diseases. It spreads quickly and causes heavy losses.

Five years ago, when the disease broke out in Mexico, steps were taken to intensify research on it. Little scientific work had been done in this country because it has been free of the infection, the last time being in 1929.

Appearance of the disease in Mexico led American livestock leaders to realize modern transportation increased opportunities of transmitting the disease and this country should get better prepared to defend its $9 billion livestock industry.

CONGRESS authorized the government to establish a modern research laboratory. The lawmakers instructed that it be located on an island to decrease the possibility of its becoming the seedbed for a domestic outbreak.

After much careful and quiet investigating and dickering, the department came up with an option for a laboratory site on Prudence Island, a part of Rhode Island, in Narragansett Bay.

Meanwhile, success was coming to a joint Mexican-United States program for stamping out the disease in Mexico.

It now appears this country will re-open its borders to Mexican livestock late this summer.

Just as the department was getting set to start work on Prudence Island, Congress called a halt. The lawmakers were under much pressure to cut non-military spending. Inasmuch as the disease was being brought under control in Mexico, they decided against going ahead.

The outbreak in Canada, particularly if it spreads, may well change the congressional mind.

New Store Opens Here

A brand new type of store will make its debut Friday in Circleville. Unusual variety and tremendous assortment of merchandise for "town and country-ites" is to be featured.

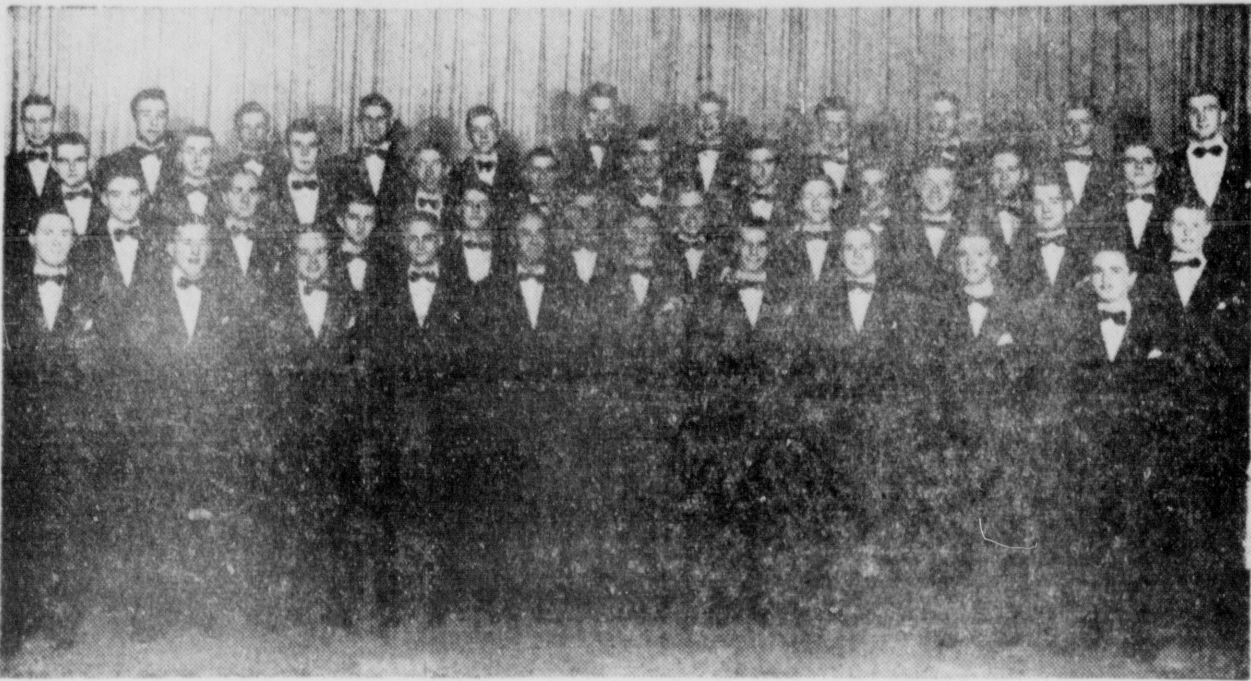

The remodeled store is located at 116 West Main street and will be known as a Jim Brown Town and Country Store. Alvin M. Brooks is manager of the new store.

Grand opening of the new store began Friday and will continue through Saturday. The store will be open for inspection until 9 p. m. Saturday.

Slayer Gets Life

COLUMBUS, March 21 — Frank Branch, 20, was sentenced Thursday to life in prison for the robbery-slaying of Virginia Bates, 40, a Columbus hotel caterer. A jury found Branch guilty of first-degree murder, but recommended mercy.

Excluding teeth, a horse's skeleton contains approximately 216 bones.

Featured in the concert will be a plaid-clad double quartet, a soprano soloist and violinist. The concert also will feature spirituals, early church music in Latin, contemporary American works and Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" medley. The concert is open to the public.

Another Old Medical Book Is Outlined

Last week, The Circleville Herald ran a story on a 124 year old book on herbs and their medicinal uses.

And now another book on herbal healing and uses of herbs in the practice of botanic medicine has been offered by O. L. Weaver of Williamsport.

The book, "An Improved System of Botanic Medicine" by Horton Howard, was printed in 1852 in Cincinnati. This volume supplies engravings of the herbs and an explanation of their various properties.

DURING THIS period in medical history, there seemed to be a great number of botanic practitioners who distinguished themselves from the "Faculty" medical profession.

Of particular interest is a section on medical fees, published in 1830 in the New York Medical Inquirer. It brings to light the fact that medical fees have not increased considerably in the last 122 years, especially in view of other modern prices.

A partial list includes: Verbal advice, 0 to $5; Ordinary visit, 0 to $2; Visit at a distance, $1.50 per mile; Dislocations, $5, to $20; Extracting tooth, $2; Midwifery, common case, $25, to $35; and Tedious case, $36, to $60.

This list was published so the public would know current prices being charged in New York.

The book offers a course in midwifery and suggests the inside coating, or skin, of an eggshell for healing cuts.

Use of spiders web is recommended as a cure for consumption; milkweed for dropsy; and poke-weed for cancer.

Weaver purchased this book at an auction. He also has several old 1847 McGuffey Readers.

Ashville

Michael Reese, local fourth grader, has been ill the past week with a severe sore throat.

Jay Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Morrison, has returned home after undergoing tonsillectomy in a Columbus hospital.

In the recently completed Franklin County Lutheran dart ball league, several local players compiled exceptionally high batting averages. Among leading Ashville-Lockbourne batters were Paul Kuhlwein, with an average of .537 made by getting 157 hits in 287 times at bat. All Kuhlwein's hits were singles, except for two home runs. Don Hafez with an average of .481 and 136 hits in 283 times at bat placed second. Ray Kuhlwein led the league in triples with 68 three-base hits to his credit, while Herb Vick led the team in homers with 12. Vick also made 11 doubles to place second to Ben Duval with 12. The local team placed second in the league, finishing only one game behind the winners.

Plant Agrees To Liquidate

ALLIANCE, March 21 — A union representing 600 workers, thrown out of jobs when the Strong Manufacturing Co. decided to liquidate, has agreed to stop picketing the idle plant.

The company, in turn, promised it never would do business in Sebring again. Strong announced it was liquidating last month, during the strike. But the union, claiming the company never made the liquidation official, kept truck drivers from hauling away the machinery.

The union said its members could not draw unemployment compensation because the state still considered them strikers.

Lydia Opened Heart and Home

SHE LISTENED, BELIEVED AND BEGGED THE APOSTLES TO ABIDE AT HER HOUSE

Scripture—Acts 16:40.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE STORY of the devout woman, Lydia, is unique in the Bible story because she was a business woman—a seller of the purple cloth, dyed with a costly dye obtained from a species of shell fish. It was expensive because only one drop of it was secured from the throat of a fish, although a cheaper dye was secured by crushing the fish.

How did the missionaries, on the second of Paul's missionary journeys, happen to meet this prosperous woman? They had been in Asia, but the Spirit who directed their work, refused to let them speak further in Asia.

At Troas, a famous seaport on the western shores of Asia Minor, across the Aegean sea from Macedonia, Paul had a vision at night. The vision was of a man from Macedonia who begged the Apostle to "come over into Macedonia, and help us."

Sure that the Lord had called them to preach the gospel on that continent, Paul and his companions went to Samothracia, next to Neapolis, and thence to Philippi.

Paul, "being grieved," told the spirit to come out of the poor slave, in the name of Jesus Christ. It left her, but the man who had been making "easy money" through the girl were very angry and they caught Paul and Silas and took them to the market place, accusing them to the magistrates of teaching "customs which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans." They also said that they were Jews and were "troubling our city."

The multitude of people were against them, and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them. After they had been severely beaten they were thrown into prison with their feet in the stocks. At midnight the Apostles prayed and sang praises to God, and "suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone's hands were loosed."

Awakening from sleep, the keeper of the prison saw the open pi, chief city of that part of Macedonia.

There, on the Sabbath day, the missionaries went to the riverside outside the city, where there was a place of prayer. There being no synagogue in Philippi, this was the place where devout Jews met for prayer. Lydia, who worshipped God, was there.

There are those who go to worship on the Sabbath whose thoughts wander about on business affairs, household duties, social affairs, etc., paying little heed to the service or the words of the minister.

Lydia was not one of these. She listened attentively; the Lord "opened her heart," she was convinced of the truth of Paul's words, and was baptized with all her household. Then she begged the missionaries to go to her home and "abide there."

She was so emphatic in her invitation, that they felt "constrained," or almost forced, to accept. It must have been a pleasant interlude in the lives of these men, who traveled many miles on foot, depending on the generosity of those who listened and received their message for food and lodging. Lydia probably had a comfortable home with servants to care for the needs of all.

As the missionaries went to prayer a young girl followed them everywhere. She was possessed by a spirit and could prophesy, so some men took her about and made money by her soothsaying. As she followed the Apostles she cried, "These men are the servants of God, which shew us the way to salvation."

doors, and thinking that all prisoners had escaped, he was about to commit suicide with his sword, when Paul cried to him that all were there—not one had fled.

So overjoyed was the jailer at this news, that he took the Apostles to his home, washed and bound up their wounds, and he and all his family believed and were baptized.

The jailer then told them that the magistrates had sent word to let them go, but Paul said that they had been openly condemned without a hearing, had been beaten, and cast into prison, and if the magistrates wanted to release them they should come themselves to fetch them.

The magistrates were pretty upset when the jailer told them what Paul had said, especially about them being Romans, and they came and took them out and begged them to depart, out of the city.

When the Apostles left the prison, they went back to Lydia's home, and we can imagine that she did everything she could to make them comfortable. "And when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed."

St. Paul is often thought of as a woman hater, but if you read St. Luke's Acts of the Apostles, you find he frequently spoke with reverence and gratitude of women. In his Epistle to the Romans he sent his love to women as to men of the congregation. And Lydia, a woman, was his first European convert.

THE ANTHRAX EMERGENCY

Serious outbreaks of Anthrax are occurring and upon investigation of State Authorities the suspicion exists that imported Bone Meal and Meat products may be carriers of the disease.

To our knowledge no known cases have occurred on farms where Heinz NU-WAY Feeds are being used and to assist our customers in guarding against any possible future outbreaks through feed contamination, we have taken the following steps:

1. All Bone Meal has been replaced in NU-WAY Feeds, Supplements and Minerals with other tested phosphorus ingredients.
2. All tankage and meat products have been entirely replaced with Fish Solubles and Fish Meal, for added production as well as extra safety.
3. This policy will continue until the Anthrax emergency is ended.

See your Heinz NU-WAY Dealer for wholesome, healthful production feeds for livestock and poultry or write to—

Teen Tips

Where can a group of high schoolers—girls and boys—get together for fun on Friday or Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons when they live in apartments that don't provide space enough for both family and friends?

It's a big problem that faces millions of girls and boys in cities—how and where to enjoy normal teen-time friendships and fun together outside their homes, yet not in undesirable night spots. Have you any ideas or suggestions for the girls who wrote this letter?

"We are five girls all 17 years old who have tried solving a problem that has 'stumped' all of us. We know we aren't the only ones with this problem. It is: Where can we find a club room for both boys and girls?"

"We go out with some boys Saturday nights, but there's no place to go on Friday nights or Sunday afternoons. These boys work and we can't expect them to take us out every time we get together. We go to different girls' houses every week, but this is very inconvenient for their parents and for the girls themselves. Please advise us."

Why not consult your parents, teachers, principal, your church, the YMCA, YWCA, the local Women's Club and Parent-Teachers' Association? Perhaps one of them will come up with an idea or a suggestion that will lead to a fun-spot that you can decorate, regulate and call your own.

Did you know that some schools and other public or semi-private buildings might have space available for this purpose if 'teeners weren't so destructive and didn't wreck the place? In order to be trusted with a 'teen center, you'll have to take the responsibility for making and following rules to keep it clean, protect it from damage and observe a deadline for boys and girls who never know when to go home.

Creamed chicken on toast cut-outs make good fare for a small fry's luncheon or supper party. Use an animal cookie cutter on bread slices and then toast lightly. Serve green peas with the creamed chicken.

State Cage Tournaments Move Into Semifinal Tests

Class A Lads Scheduled For Night Battles

COLUMBUS, March 21.—(P)—Two former champions, an undefeated quintet and a "Johnny-come-lately" darkhorse making its first title bid, are ready for semifinal combat in the Class A sector of the Ohio high school basketball tournament.

In Friday night's opening fray in State Fairgrounds Coliseum, Middletown's three-time champions—1944-46-47—will clash with Cincinnati Withrow's Tigers, the only novices left in the field.

The other clash pits Akron North's 1935-39 kings against Steubenville's Big Red powerhouse which has racked up 27 straight.

All four got by first round foes in handy fashion Thursday, Steubenville having the narrowest squeak as it eliminated Toledo Central Catholic, 66-61.

Middletown was a 58-42 winner over Cleveland St. Ignatus; Cincinnati Withrow ousted Columbus Aquinas, 61-52, and Akron North bounced Cleveland West out of the running 51-46.

THUS ALL three parochial qualifiers—the biggest entry in the Catholic schools have ever had in the tourney—went out in the first round. No parochial club has ever won the big championship.

The fall of the lone Toledo and both Cleveland entrants extended the jinx which has hounded those cities since the tourney started in 1923. No quietest from those spots ever having triumphed. Cincinnati, too, is still seeking its first title, but the Queen City still has its hope flying high with Withrow.

The little fellows put on a scoring show in the opening round, several stars coming close to the record of 27 set in 1941 by Newark's Dwight Snelling.

Akron North's Ned Randall, a 155-pounder, came up with 25 points against Cleveland West. Bill Ross, All-Ohio guard for Steubenville who tips the beam at only 145, contributed 24 points in the 66-61 win over Toledo Central.

The kid who scored 58 points for the season's high single-game effort, Dave Demko of Cleveland St. Ignatus (he stands 5-10)—had 18 in the losing game against Middletown, topping the 17 of Middletown's 6-4 center, Cliff Hafer.

Two other 17-pointers showed up in the Cincinnati Withrow-Columbus Aquinas tilt as Dave Plunkett, 6-6 center of the Queen City crew and Guard Burkley of the losers hit that figure.

The concluding game of the day's four-game card was a ding-dong tussle between Lockland Wayne and New Matamoras. Wayne had sufficient second-half stamina to oust the smaller Washington County quint by a 51-31 count. The All-Negro outfit held New Matamoras to eight points in the entire second half, six of them coming in the third canto.

Lockland Wayne and Minster fight it out in the 3 p. m. game for the other berth in the state finals, scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Again it's a veteran and rookie picture here. Wayne is making its fifth trip to the state tournament. It's the first trip for Minster.

Half the eight teams that bulldozed their way into the annual cage classic exited Thursday in a four-game trek along the fabulous "Heartbreak Highway."

Left to wrestle it out for the top rung on Ohio's basketball hotbed are Waynesburg, Nelsonville, Minster and Lockland Wayne.

Waynesburg's 58-32 win over North Lima hoisted the Mohawks into Friday's play and added more luster to an already-impressive record. Waynesburg has copied 25 straight contests this season and 52 of its last 53 decisions.

Nelsonville's Greyhounds provide the opposition for the mighty Mohawks in the lid-lifter of the afternoon double-header at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

IN NELSONVILLE, Waynesburg faces a team making its first trip to the cage carnival as a Class B school. Nelsonville got to Columbus as a Class A team in 1923-24 only to lose out in the early stages. The Mohawks are veteran performers in the state meet, having appeared six times previously.

Nelsonville climbed aboard the semifinal special with a solid, 59-

51 decision over Gibsonburg, despite a 28-point burst by Gibsonburg's All-State Center Chuck McGuire.

Minster advanced to the second-round play by routing the Urbana Local Lions, 49-35. The victors claimed the margin of victory at the foul stripe, where they picked up 19 points in 10 throws.

Marty Marion Seen As '52 Key To St. Louis Browns' Chances

MIAMI, March 21 — Marty Marion, deposed manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and current shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, could be a big help to Rogers Hornsby's gang of youngsters.

With a fellow like Marion around to direct the infield and pitchers like Ned Garver, Bob Cain, Tom Byrne and Gene Bearden, they could finish out of the American League cellar.

Marion, though, is the key man. He thinks he'll be able to go about 100 games this season if his injured leg holds up.

Marion went two for three in Thursday's game which the National League champion New York Giants won, 4-3 in 10 innings. Tookie Gilbert was the star for the Giants. He hit a double in the 10th.

Local Sports Group Studies New Project

Pickaway County Farmers' and Sportsmen's Club Thursday agreed to investigate an "adopt a stream" program recommended by the League of Ohio Sportsmen.

A committee of local sportsmen has been delegated to select a local stream for the project, approval to be sought from state agencies.

The project is designed to better the relations between local farmers and sportsmen.

As a part of the program, the local sportsmen are to aid the farmer, while at the same time bettering the habitat for game and fish.

NO WORK on the project, however, will be performed without the wholehearted recommendation of the landowner.

Meanwhile, members of the local sports group are to turn out at 9 a. m. Sunday to begin a cleanup project on the Old Canal, west of Circleville.

The sportsmen are to man axe and brush-cutters to get the canal in shape for the spring fishing season, while looking to the state to pitch in later to help.

Robert Wolf, secretary to the sports group, said state men have indicated they may begin a dredging operation on the canal this year, deepening the channel and building up the washed-out levy which permits flood waters of the Scioto River to sweep through the canal.

"Mr. Lattimore. No, not that I recall."

Page after page follows which shows that Owen Lattimore cannot remember persons and their relationships with whom he did business as editor of "Pacific Affairs," and as an official of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

The Committee counsel had to read testimony of Dr. Karl Wittfogel to establish that "Asiaticus" was Heinz Moeller, an important German Communist, who had played a great role in China. Lattimore's direct testimony developed about a dozen contradictions which were so detailed in nature that they require further explanation.

Presbyterian Men Hear St. Patrick Story

Judge Radcliff Gives History Of Missionary

Famed Saint
Sold As Slave
In Ireland

Judge William D. Radcliff addressed the Presbyterian Men's Brotherhood Wednesday upon "The Story of St. Patrick," tracing through the maze of legend and fact surrounding the saint's name the worthwhile lessons that may be drawn from the story of his life.

In opening this meeting of the Brotherhood, president H. B. Spencer called the attention of members to the coming statewide rally for Presbyterian men which will be held May 17 and 18 in Columbus.

It was noted that Spencer has been appointed to serve on the nominating committee to select names for officers of the Columbus Presbytery of the Council of Presbyterian Men.

After the close of the business session, George D. Young introduced Judge Radcliff who began by covering comprehensively the facts of St. Patrick's life as they are given by Catholic historians:

Patrick is believed to have been born in Kilpatrick, Dumbarton, Scotland, his original name being Patricius, son of Roman citizens.

AT THE AGE of 16 he was kidnapped by pirates, who sold him as a slave to an Irish chieftain who was a priest of the Druid religion. Patrick is believed to have been a swineherd for a period of several years. He was particularly treated with kindness, since he came to love the people and the country of Ireland.

After his escape, he determined to enter upon a life of religious work and to return to Ireland as a Christian missionary.

He entered the monastery of St. Martin in Tours, France, and engaged in 18 years of study and missionary work in France. In the year 433 A. D., the Pope commissioned him as missionary to Ireland, and he then entered upon the work that has made his name renowned.

It is noteworthy that the first to receive the Christian gospel from Patrick was the Irish chieftain who was his former master. This man renounced his Druid beliefs.

He and his family became staunch and zealous Christians, who are credited with establishing several monasteries and convents in Ireland.

In covering the legends associated with St. Patrick's name, Judge Radcliff noted that many people immediately think of snakes when St. Patrick's name is mentioned.

In the fifth century, he said, ignorance and superstition were rife in Ireland. The story goes that the Druids were sun worshippers who, in their opposition to Patrick, caused hideous vultures and dragons to appear, whereupon Patrick caused the earth to open and swallow the dragons and vultures created by the Druid priests. From some such story, the story of St. Patrick and the snakes may have arisen.

ANOTHER STORY associated with St. Patrick is that Patrick used the shamrock to illustrate the doctrine of the Trinity. Most historians, Radcliff noted, refuse to accept this story.

The trefoil or shamrock had been revered since ancient times. A connection can be traced with the Persian triads. The ancient historian Pliny states that no serpent or viper was ever known to touch the trefoil.

"It is possible," said Radcliff, "that the Irish saw in an already respected plant an effective way to impress upon the minds of their people the lesson St. Patrick had taught them concerning the dogma of the Trinity."

Judge Radcliff touched upon other legends associated with St. Patrick, such as the story of the everlasting fire, the distillation of "po-tween", etc., and then dwelt upon the very real work that the man accomplished.

"He was," said the judge, "a Godly man who performed a prodigious amount of work. He established half the parishes that now exist in Ireland."

"There is no question," Radcliff concluded, "but that St. Patrick was a great man. It seems to me that Ireland could use a St. Patrick today perhaps better than in 433 A.D."

"Perhaps the world needs the Man of Galilee more today than it did 19 centuries ago. Surely the Presbyterian Church could use another John Knox, the Lutheran another Martin Luther, etc."

"In these times, when our society is threatened by various degrees of selfishness within and by Communism and other dangers without, the world could use a man who exemplifies the qualities that made St. Patrick—the qualities of humility, tolerance, and charity."

Laws Aiding Vets Outlined

A check into laws passed by the first session of the 82nd Congress, reveals that the following laws were passed that will be of interest to World Wars I and II and Korean Veterans.

Public Law 16—Extends time for filing POW claims to March 31.

Public Law 23—Serviceman's Indemnity Act and Insurance Act of 1951. (Free insurance to all veterans who entered service after June 1950.)

Public Law 28—Grants Korean vets war rates-hospital and domiciliary care and burial benefits. (Giving Korean vets the same benefits regarding hospital, and domiciliary care and burial benefits that the WW II vet has.)

Public Law 36—NSLI dividends to apply on premiums after Jan. 1, 1952, unless veteran writes request for cash.

Public Law 101—Permits five-year renewal of USGLI term policies without a special act of Congress.

Public Law 104—Permits five-year renewal of NSLI term policies without a special act of Congress.

Public Law 121—Authorizes gold star lapel buttons for next-of-kin of deceased WW II veterans and of subsequent wars.

Public Law 131—Authorized travel and transportation pay for dependents of missing veterans.

Public Law 139—Extension of direct GI loans and lowers down payments.

Public Law 149—Provides $120 per month for aid and attendance in non-service connected total disability cases. (Provided veteran can prove he is helpless or blind to such an extent that he cannot take care of himself, and needs an aid or special attendance to attend to his every day wants and needs.)

Public Law 170—Extends vocational training to Korean vets the same as WWII veterans. (To qualify for this benefit, the Korean veteran must have a disability which occurred in the service and for which the VA is paying compensation.)

Public Law 174—Provides two-year presumptive period for multiple sclerosis.

Public Law 187—Provides $1,600 toward purchase of auto for loss of hand, or loss of use of hands, and for blind veterans. (This law has always been in effect for veteran with loss of foot, or loss of use of foot.)

Public Law 239—Provides two-year presumptive period for psychoschisis.

For further information regarding these laws, contact James P. Shea, veterans service office, in Pickaway Courthouse.

Vote Ruling Made

COLUMBUS, March 21 — (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has ruled that an Ohioan must reside in the state a year before he can register and vote in a primary election. The year's residence requirement also applies to a November election, O'Neill added.

Strikers Close Dayton Factory

DAYTON, March 21 — (AP)—A strike by about 800 members of the United Electrical Workers Union (UE) shut down the GHR division of the Dayton Malleable Iron Co. Thursday.

Preston Mack, president of the UE's Local 768, said the strike is in protest against the company's breaking off wage negotiations. Richard Courchene, industrial relations director for the company, said negotiations were stopped because another union, the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) (CIO), had asked the National Labor Relations Board to declare it the bargaining unit for GHR workers.

Governor's Order Clears Highway

CONNEAUT, March 21 — (AP)—Traffic moved normally Friday over U. S. Route 20, where less than 24 hours before a string of some 500 parked trucks had produced a snarl.

When Gov. Frank J. Lausche heard that the truckers were protesting new Pennsylvania weight measures, he said "it can't be tolerated." Highway patrolmen went to work and cleared the jam in about an hour.
